News Received by the Cabaus in Washington—Capture of a Provision Train by the Patriots—The Cuban Army in Good Condi-tion—Feud Between the Spanish Regulars and Volunteers.

WASHINGTON, June 25, 1869. Important intelligence has been received from the headquarters of the Cuban revolutionists by their friends in this city. Since the battle of Puerto del Padre there have been but two unimportant engage-ments, in both of which the Spanish forces were de-feated, with the loss of over fifty in killed and wounded. In one of them the Cubans captured a provision train. The Cuban army is re-ported in good condition, while that of their oppoments is suffering greatly from cholers and conges-tive fevers. Disease and discontent are proving more destructive to the Spaniards than could have been accomplished by most successful operations in the field. The commanders find it difficult to main-tain any organization. The feud between the regutars and volunteers is growing more intense every day, and all hopes of a settlement seem to be at an end. The volunteers have complete control of the commanders, and indescribable outrages are being perpetrated at their instigation.

Change of Feeling Among the Conservatives-New Candidates for the United States

WASHINGTON, June 25, 1869. I have received the following from Richmond, Va.:There is great rejoicing here among the whites over the increased majority of 20,000 which the registration gives them. The prospect of returning power seems to have liberalized the minds of even the frepresentatives of the straitest Virginia sect, and to such a degree that conservative men of pro-minence are putting on foot a movement to elect Dr. Alexander Sharp, former Postmaster here and a Alexander Sharp, former Postmaster here and a brother-in-law of the present Marshal of the District of Columbia, to the United States Senate. Probably the ineligibility of their first choice men is the main reason for this; but the movement for Sharp is an evidence of a most radical change in the feelings of the conservative politicians, who a year ago were very far from being reconstructed up to this point.

THE FEMALE REVOLUTION.

Women Senators in Council-What's Coming?-Look Out for the Other Sex.

Last evening the women identified with the Wo men's Rights Association met at the private resiience of Doctress Lozier, 361 Thirty-fourth street. This is a remarkable lady. So are the ladies who attended the reunion. The house is ore of those unpretentious, quiet brown stone fronts where seems to reside naught else but the spirit of repose. Last evening this residence of Madame Lozier, on the second floor, was the theatre for a considerable show of argument, pro and con, on the question of universal suffrage. It was a curious sight to observe, in the early evening, as the young and elderly females arrived, that all seemed animated by the one idea of obtaining for woman the great and precious right of suftrage. At the reporters' table, for instance, were Mrs. Shepard. a dignified and delightful lady, and Miss Estebrook, a young and let us say rather immature creature-or, we will slightly rather immature creature—or, we will slightly say, a little too hasty—with a world of genius apparent and dreadfully down upon the press, to which she professes to belong. Oh, how could thou thus be severe upon us poor mortals! Well, again there was Miss Lizzie Brown, all love and lightning, and she, too, made no allowances for these unfortunate reporters, as she averred, in such language as became a wom an's meeting in the far West, or, worse, where every word is a rock and every object aimed at is a prematurely "gone duck." meeting in the far West, or, worse, where every word is a rock and every object aimed at is a prematurely "gone duck."

The meeting last evening was for the purpose of electing delegates to the Chicago Convention, and the following were elected:—Mrs. C. B. Philips, Mrs. A. Gibbons and Mrs. C. A. F. Lozier. The room where all the discussion about women's rights occurred was one of those ordinary places one may find in any of the residences along the street. Miss Anthony spoke after Mrs. Lozier had been elected to the chair. She said she was to a considerable extent played out and had very little to offer by way of variety, but she felt assured she could call upon the representatives of the press to take her place and make the cause of women triumphant and glorious. Thereupon some curious looking reporter, with a handsome head of hair and a marvellously brilliant eye, stood up and announced his intention of delivering an oration when he found himself prepared.

As a general thing there were few salient points about the audience. Each one seemed to dress herself with an especial view to the press report in the morning. The HERALD reporter was certainly well treated, and the ladies on that account demand some consideration. At their next meeting the young and vigorous Miss Susan B. Anthony will make the fur fly from the male suffrage and male suffrage ducks alone in our community.

THE NATIONAL GUARD.

Excursion of the Fourth Company, Seventh Regiment.
The Fourth company, Seventh regiment, yesterday celebrated the sixty-third anniversary of their ization by an excursion to Glen Cove, L. I. The excursions of the "old Fourth" in past years have always been genuine events in the career of the Seventh, and the excursion yesterday was ceritself will not forget for some time to come. The command left the pier foot of East Eighth street on board the steamboat General Sedgwick about halfboard the steamboat General Sedgwick about half-past eight o'clock in the morning, and, the day being fine, they had, as a matter of course, a very plea-sant voyage up the Sound. Company D is com-posed of as joily a set of fellows as ever stacked a musket before a dance; and so as soon as they arrived they found little difficulty in killing time before the feature of the day came about, which was the dinner. A champion base ball club was organized in less time than it would take an ordinary sized man to say Jack Robinson, and the national game was consequently murdered in a club was organized in less time than it would take an ordinary sized man to say Jack Robinson, and the national game was consequently murdered in a fashion that was as exhibitanting to the piayers as it was disagreeable to the side that got badly laid out. Then came a rowing match between picked crews of the gray coats, and, as is usual in "such cases made and provided," one of the crews didn't come in first by long odds. Nor was dancing forgotten, and white pants suffered accordingly during the sweltering exercise. At the dinner, which was a spread quite worthy of the Favilion House in its many dainty dishes, speeches were made by Captain Kipp, Colonel Fowier and Lieutenant Colonet Fitzgerald, and everybody that ever wore a seventh regiment uniform was toasted with all the honors. About half-past five o'clock the company left the Cove and arrivad at part force. all the honors. About half-past five o'clock the company left the Cove and arrived at pier foot of West Twenty-third street about half-past seven o'clock, where they were received by the Kinth company, Liquetenant Arthur in command; Seventh company, Captain G. M. Smith; a detachment from the First company, under Lieutenant Barr, and detachments from several other companies of the regiment. The 'old Fourth,' in passing through Twenty-third street, received a perfect ovation, the private residences displaying flags and bunting, while freworks illuminated the street from Ninth to Sixth avenue. A large crowd of the admirers of the gray coats, which had assembled all along the route of march to the armory, also gave thems a warm welcome by cheers and "sky rockets" innumerable.

Anniversary of Company G, Twenty-second Regiment, N. G. S. N. Y. Company G of the Twenty-second regiment, N. G. S. N. Y., held its eighth auniversary last night, at the drill room of the armory, on West Fourteenth atreet. A portion of the floor was divided off by large flags suspended from the beams of the roof and extending to the goor, and within this the members arge mags suspended from the beams of the roof and extending to the door, and within this the members of the company, with their guests, to the number of about 200, assembled, at the request of Captain W. J. A. McGrath, at a few minutes to ten o'clock. On being seated, the captain, in a few words, happily chosen and jocosely uttered, invited the members of his command and their friends to advance without regard to military order, all being in citizens' costume, and help themselves to the good things on the table. The invitation had not to be repeated, and, there being no ladies present, sams ceremonie among the eatables and drinkables and smokables was the order of the occasion. When those who honored the table had satisfied the "internal economy" several of the more volatile endeavored, incited thereto by music furnished by members of Dodsworth's band, to form quadrilie sets; but the failure was lamentable. It ended in a "breakdown." When it was found that the "light fantastic" was no go a second attack, and a successful one, was made on the oyster's and sandwiches, and "lemonade" all round. A number of gentiemen prominent in military life honored the occasion, among them ex-Lieutenant Governor Woodford, General Tweed, of Governor Hodman's staff; Colonel Renny, Lieutenant Colonel Porter, and Major Ceuyr, of the Twenty-second.

Return of the Forty-seventh Regiment. The Forty-seventh regiment, Major Rogers com-manding, returned to Williamsburg yesterday morn-ing filled with New Haven notions. The reception ing fined with New Haven hotions. The reception given to the command in the Eim City was of so flat-tering a character—their feasting so Lucullus-like— that they are now dissatisfied with their homes. They became unsteady in the land of steady habits, but are expected to regain their equilibrium in a day or two. The excursion will never be forgotten by those who participated in it.

New York, June 12, 1893.

Dear General.—Before your departure for Europe we desire to moet you and to have the opportunity of expressing to you on feetings of kindin interest and friendly regard, and of congratulating you upon the merited appreciation of your services by your country shown by your recent appointment as Minister to Spain. In this new position we have no doubt you will do credit to our country, which you so fattbrully and so valuably served during the recent war.

We do not address you as party men. We belong to different potitical parties, and the request we now make is entirely unconnected with party views, feelings or objects. We mean this simply as a tribute of personal respect, esteem and friendship for one whom we regard as worthy of them all, and well entitled to this small testimonial from friends, some recent, many of iong standing. For this purpose we cordially invite you to meet us unceremoniously at the Everett House, on the evening of the 30th inst., at eight octock. We do not propose feasting, or toasts, or speeches; those are every day affairs. Our opinion is that without those ancillaries a meeting such as we invite you to will be a reunion fraught with much pleasure to us all, will revive many agreeable recollections and furnish many pleasant memories for the future.

Trusting that you will accept our invitation we are, very sincerely, your friends.

In accepting a diplomatic appointment the representative of the government, like an officer in the exercise of military command, is presumed to divest himself of party predilections in the discharge of his functions. Abroad our fellow citizens are all Americans, endeared to one another by a common nationality and a common allegiance, and all are equally entitled to the consideration and protection of the government and its ministers, it is in this spirit that I approach my new duties, and I am happy to receive your generous expression of esteem in a form that assures me these views will meet with your approbation.

of esteem in a form that assures me these views will meet with your approbation.

Perhaps I could find no occasion more appropriate for declaring that, in undertaking a foreign mission, notwithstanding my wish to confine myself to the profession with which I am now identified, it is solely with the purpose of contributing what I may to advance the interests of our country, while doing all in my power for the preservation of peaceful relations with the government to which I am accredited. ited.

I am, gentlemen, with the most grateful sense of your kindness and consideration, very respectfully, D. E. SIGNLES.

They gravitate towards the "Pacific slope" as easily and naturally as if it were all a gentic slope from here to there, and as though they could not possibly prevent their feet from wandering in that direction, no matter how much they were to try. Messrs. E. L. Davenport and John E. Owens have but recently returned from that far off quarter of the globe, as has also Miss Lucille Western, while Mr. John Brougham, the Elise Holt burlesque troupe and Nixon's Circus are even now wending their way thither, and on Monday next, as stated above, the laughing, dancing, gushing Lotta Joins the throng of ambitious pligrims for the same auriferous Mecca. Mr. and Mrs. Barney Williams were likewise offered a short time since magnifecent inducements to spend a short time since magnifecent inducements to spend a short professional season in the same delightful State, which, however, they have not seen proper as yet to accept.

MORDER IN TEXAS.—On Friday night last, about nine o'clock, some unknown assassin rode up to the residence of Dr. Black, at Round Rock, seventeen miles north of this city, and, calling the Doctor to the door, shot him dead. Dr. Black was a high-toned, honorable and patriotic chizen, who stood high in the estimation of all who knew him. We deeply sympathize with the citizens of Williamson county in the severe loss they sustain. It is sincerely hoped that the assassin will be discovered and brought to punishment for the horrible crime.—Houston (Texas) Republican, June 16.
